Issues Resolved:

Description: The standard information found on the error report were not the same as those found in the other preprocessor applications such as:

- The label for Description should have been Error Message.
- The label for Column Name should have been Field.
- The label for Value should have been Contents.
- The label for Row Number should have been Rec Num.
- The data displayed under Column Name and Value should have been separated by slash (/) and not a plus sign (+).
- The total number of errors at the bottom are missing.

Customers Impacted: This defect affects you if you import budget amounts into Costpoint.
